Municipal WebsiteMunicipal Website Select your town from the drop down menu for specific information on where you can recycle your electronics. For towns marked "No information at this time", please note that currently they do not accept electronic waste. However, as the state's e-waste regulations are fully implemented, every town will be required to establish a convenient and accessible location for the recycling of electronic waste. The specific electronics accepted may vary from town to town although all will be required to accept televisions, monitors, computers and printers. If the town has a webpage specifically for recycling, public works, or the transfer station, that link is provided below. If not, then the link goes to the town's home page. While DEEP strives to maintain accurate and up-to-date information, it has no control over changes made to municipal websites. Please contact your local recycling coordinator for more information. NOTE: The DEEP seeks to ensure that up-to-date recycling information is available to the public. If you are a public official, please take a moment to review and update the information we have about your town on this web page. Use our update form (Word form | Fillable PDF) to notify DEEP of any changes or clarifications. Select your town from the following list to find your electronics recycling location.
